JEALOUS HUSBAND HAS A LIVELY TIME AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON.

Henry A. Dixon's Jealous Husband has a lively time at the Booker Washington Theatre this week. The theme has been repeated a number of times here but it is always amusing. A husband who must be gone from home for a time cannot bring his wife to church during the absence. This practically excludes all her friends. She does not live up to the regulations, however, and he pretends to find the home crowded. The situation ends in an amiable manner and no one gets killed. The comedy is far from being a home and a home is far from being a home.

ALL-TIME REVUE SEAT WEEK

Hightower and Zeek's All Star Revue will open at the Booker Washington Theatre Monday night. This is a chance to see an extraordinary production, featuring King Rastus Brown the Champion Buck and Wing Dancer.

ADMISSION FREE AT MANHATTAN GARDEN
BEGINNING MONDAY

The Manhattan Garden will inaugurate an admission-free policy beginning Monday, for the day of the Sunday and holidays. The management also announces a big cut in prices on everything. There is a change in the high class entertainment offered by the popular place, which always features the latest musical hits.

AT THE MOVIES—

"Good Women," "Trust Your Wife" and "The Mistress of Shenstone" at Star.

An up-to-date production—the right of the individual, especially a woman to make modern conventions in the name of "Good Women." It is a story worked out in a natural manner. An American woman declares the right to live her own life as she sees fit, but denies the moral code, and she is not a good woman.

After many adventures she finds herself actually attracted and beyond the pale of decency. The Sunday "God's Gold" will be the feature. The picture presents Ned Hart in the role of a sea captain and his quest for buried treasure is marked by his continuous round of adventures.

A neat little melodrama, even the destruction of two ships in the harbor at sea, and the story is a masterpiece from the clutches of a man of letters. It is a bit of the exciting and the story is the picture.

Next Thursday, "The Mistress of Shenstone" will be the feature. The picture presents a woman who receives a false report of her husband's death, and she goes to another. But like a girl of a clear sky, she returns to her husband, and the story is the picture.

"Trust Your Wife" and "The Mistress of Shenstone" at Star.

Katherine MacDonald in "Trust Your Wife" will be the feature. The picture presents a woman who receives a false report of her husband's death, and she goes to another. But like a girl of a clear sky, she returns to her husband, and the story is the picture.

There are many remarkable scenes in the picture and those who like to see Mr. Hart in one of his big roles will not be disappointed.

"Passion Fruit" and "Someone in the House" at Adelamer.

Donating the world's Greatest Dinner will be featured in "Passion Fruit" at the Adelamer Theatre this Sunday and Monday. It is a delicious and delicious dinner, presented in a most entertaining manner.

The Wednesday-Thursdays attraction will be "Someone in the House," a dramatic story of a woman who is a victim of a man's love.

WAS AN LAW BROKEN AT OKLAHOMA?
By William Pickens
(The Associated Press)

Attorney General Daugherty has ordered an inquiry to "find out" whether any of the laws of the nation were violated at Oklahoma.

It is not to be recalled primarily, this attitude of the cabinet officers, but to draw attention to the whole of the situation.

It is the saddest phase of the whole matter, that the most serious is in doubt as to whether any of the laws were violated by the nation.

and how can this, they know that all around the world, even the people of Turkey and Poland and Russia have read about the horrors of the Tulsa race riot.

They need another Alexander Hamilton, to show them that a Constitution which gives a nation life, gives it the power to defend that life.

They need another Lincoln to tell them that the Constitution is the only way to keep the nation from being torn apart.

That is the question. Will somebody answer it for the administration? Could the federal government do this? Could the states do this? Could the nation do this?

But Lincoln had sense enough to take the position that when life is delegated or given to a nation, it is given by implication the right to defend that life, and that the right to defend does not have to be specified.

If the Constitution gives the nation the right to keep the fires of its citizens on the battlefields of France, it is not given the right to defend them from the streets of Tulsa.

Lincoln could see at a glance that the nation could not afford to defend them from the streets of Tulsa.

Lincoln could see at a glance that the nation could not afford to defend them from the streets of Tulsa.

The Truth is, that the Constitution allows this country to do anything it wants to do. It even allows it to go into Haiti and kill three thousand Haitians to keep two keep two to have Haitians from killing each other.

—when not a single American citizen was even in danger.
